nearness and farness
How near or far are the things you are examining together?
In what ways does the distance matter?
big and small
What are the size of the things happening or existing?
How do things change when the size changes?

Proximity

Scale

Shift

Place

movement and migration
How are people and things moving through the space?
How do those movements change and what changes them?

physical space overlaid with people and their culture(s)
How do people and their culture shape the space and the space shape people and their culture?
How do those who use the space actually act out or redefine the intent of the place?
