M.Ed. in Human Relations Recommended Course Sequence

This is the recommended sequence of classes for the 30-hour Masters of Education in Human Relations degree.

First Term
- EPS 550 Foundations of Inquiry and Practice in Human Relations
- EPS 580 Human Development
- Elective*

Second Term
- EPS 525 Introduction to Statistics
- EPS 591 Personality Adjustment
- Elective*

Third Term
- EPS 596 Developmental Perspectives of Human Diversity
- EPS 605 Educational Psychology Applied to Learning

Fourth Term
- EPS 664 Tests and Measurements
- EPS 671 Consultation in the Helping Professions

This degree has 24 units (8 classes) of required Core Courses, and 6 units (2 classes) of Electives. Electives* may be taken during any term of the student’s program.

Identified Electives
- EPS 590 Substance-related and Addictive Disorders
- EPS 595 Self-Management Techniques
- EPS 602 The Impact of College on Students
- EPS 606 Applied Behavior Management
- EPS 610 Child Psychology
- EPS 611 Adolescent Psychology
- EPS 612 Adult Psychology
- EPS 620 Vocational Counseling and Career Development
- CCHE 580 The Community College
- EDR 610 Introduction to Research

Electives Alternative NOTE: Instead of the 6 credit hours of electives listed above in this program, students in this degree program may substitute an approved Graduate Certificate from Northern Arizona University. Please contact the EPS Department or an Academic Advisor with any questions.

Updated: RAH, 05-2015