Graduation refers to the fulfillment of degree requirements and the application. Your student’s graduation application will initiate the graduation process toward the conferral of his or her degree, as well as reserve a spot in the commencement ceremony.

It is important to remember that graduation refers to the fulfillment of degree requirements and the conferral of a degree. Commencement is the public ceremony celebrating this accomplishment. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

The university is proud to announce the many convocations and commencements to celebrate the diverse heritages, identities, and accomplishments of our students.

Congratulations to our Spring 2016 Graduates

The university is proud to announce the many convocations and commencements to celebrate the diverse heritages, identities, and accomplishments of our students.

Congratulations!

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Convocation Days

The event's committee, said she loves the Undergraduate Symposium because it showcases the breadth and diversity of students' activities and research.

"The Undergraduate Symposium features more than 150 students, each of whom gets to see what other students have done. It’s a little bit different from their own," Entin said. "It’s a really rewarding to feel the energy and enthusiasm that emanates from the Skydome floor as students share their work with faculty, staff, parents, alumni and friends, and each other. It’s just a great celebration of all the amazing work our students have accomplished."

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Events will take place Friday, May 13 and Saturday, May 14 in the Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Apply for Graduation

If your student is planning to graduate this fall or winter, the graduation application deadline is May 1, 2016.

All undergraduate students who wish to graduate from NAU must complete an online graduation application. Your student’s graduation application will initiate the graduation process toward the conferral of his or her degree, as well as reserve a spot in the commencement ceremony.

It is important to remember that graduation refers to the fulfillment of degree requirements and the conferral of a degree. Commencement is the public ceremony celebrating this accomplishment. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Lumberjack Newspaper Offers Grad Grants

The Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Congratulations to our Spring 2016 Graduates

The university is proud to announce the many convocations and commencements to celebrate the diverse heritages, identities, and accomplishments of our students.

Congratulations!

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Convocation Days

The event's committee, said she loves the Undergraduate Symposium because it showcases the breadth and diversity of students' activities and research.

"The Undergraduate Symposium features more than 150 students, each of whom gets to see what other students have done. It’s a little bit different from their own," Entin said. "It’s a really rewarding to feel the energy and enthusiasm that emanates from the Skydome floor as students share their work with faculty, staff, parents, alumni and friends, and each other. It’s just a great celebration of all the amazing work our students have accomplished."

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Events will take place Friday, May 13 and Saturday, May 14 in the Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Apply for Graduation

If your student is planning to graduate this fall or winter, the graduation application deadline is May 1, 2016.

All undergraduate students who wish to graduate from NAU must complete an online graduation application. Your student’s graduation application will initiate the graduation process toward the conferral of his or her degree, as well as reserve a spot in the commencement ceremony.

It is important to remember that graduation refers to the fulfillment of degree requirements and the conferral of a degree. Commencement is the public ceremony celebrating this accomplishment. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Lumberjack Newspaper Offers Grad Grants

The Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Congratulations to our Spring 2016 Graduates

The university is proud to announce the many convocations and commencements to celebrate the diverse heritages, identities, and accomplishments of our students.

Congratulations!

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Convocation Days

The event's committee, said she loves the Undergraduate Symposium because it showcases the breadth and diversity of students' activities and research.

"The Undergraduate Symposium features more than 150 students, each of whom gets to see what other students have done. It’s a little bit different from their own," Entin said. "It’s a really rewarding to feel the energy and enthusiasm that emanates from the Skydome floor as students share their work with faculty, staff, parents, alumni and friends, and each other. It’s just a great celebration of all the amazing work our students have accomplished."

The Undergraduate Symposium is a free, public event, and all members of Northern Arizona University and the community are encouraged to attend. Parking is free in the lot south of the Skydome (P66) during the event.

Events will take place Friday, May 13 and Saturday, May 14 in the Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Apply for Graduation

If your student is planning to graduate this fall or winter, the graduation application deadline is May 1, 2016.

All undergraduate students who wish to graduate from NAU must complete an online graduation application. Your student’s graduation application will initiate the graduation process toward the conferral of his or her degree, as well as reserve a spot in the commencement ceremony.

It is important to remember that graduation refers to the fulfillment of degree requirements and the conferral of a degree. Commencement is the public ceremony celebrating this accomplishment. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.

Lumberjack Newspaper Offers Grad Grants

The Lumberjack student newspaper is offering an opportunity to celebrate NAU seniors who are graduating. You can find more information about graduation and commencement on the Registrar’s website.