Parent to Parent: Embracing the Mess

Dear Fan,

It's August 18 and fall semester classes begin in less than two weeks if your family is like mine. The transition of your family to college or dorm living is a big change, not only for your student but for you and your family. As you prepare for the excitement of the new fall, here are a few tips to help you move in:

1. "Help" your student move in! It’s easier to move in together. Don’t let your student do it alone.

2. Take a walk around campus. Get familiar with the area. We can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

3. Get familiar with the Student Accounts Office. They can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

4. Take a walk around campus. Get familiar with the area. We can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

5. Get familiar with the Student Accounts Office. They can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

6. Take a walk around campus. Get familiar with the area. We can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

7. Get familiar with the Student Accounts Office. They can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

8. Take a walk around campus. Get familiar with the area. We can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

9. Get familiar with the Student Accounts Office. They can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

10. Take a walk around campus. Get familiar with the area. We can provide additional information about parking permits and other general information. It is a great way to see the campus and what it has to offer.

If you have any questions, please contact us at parentandfamilyservices@nau.edu.

Shannon Clark
Coordinator, Parent and Family Services