Reclaimed Water as a Resource for an Arid Future
Yavapai College, Prescott, Arizona Campus
June 20-21, 2014

For more information and to register, visit www.nau.edu/wrep

To engage and inform water managers, elected officials and engineers from Arizona’s municipalities, counties and water districts about opportunities for reclaimed water use.

Friday June 20
8:30 am  Continental breakfast & registration
9:00 am  Opening
  Paul Gremillion, Watershed Research & Education Program Co-Director
9:15 am  Arizona’s Water Future
  Michael Lacey, Arizona Department of Water Resources Director
9:45 am  Status of Wastewater Reuse in Arizona
  Michael Fulton, Arizona Department of Environmental Quality, Water Quality Division Director
10:15 am  Break with refreshments
10:30 am  San Pedro River Recharge Project
  Pat Call, Cochise County Board of Supervisors
  David Gann, Arizona Rivers Program Director, The Nature Conservancy
11:30 am  Regulatory Framework
  Timothy Thomure, Water Reuse Practice Lead, HDR Engineering
12:00 pm  Lunch
  Dr. Ellen McDonald, Alan Plummer Associates
1:15 pm  Case Studies: Verde Valley
  City of Prescott: Leslie Graser, Water Resource Specialist
  Town of Prescott Valley: John Munderloh, Water Resources Manager
  City of Cottonwood: Dan Lueder, Utility Director
  Yavapai College Viticulture Program: Nikki Check, Director of Viticulture
2:30 pm  Wastewater Technologies for Reuse
  Guy Carpenter, Water Resources & Reuse Group Leader, Carollo Engineers
3:00 pm  Break with refreshments
3:15 pm  Contaminants of Emerging Concern
  Brad Hill, Utilities Director, City of Flagstaff
3:45 pm  Public Perceptions
  Channah Rock, Soil & Water Science Department, University of Arizona
4:15 pm  Closing
  Paul Gremillion, Watershed Research & Education Program Co-Director
4:30 pm  Reception with complementary hors d’oeuvres, beer, wine and soft drinks

Saturday June 21
10:00 am  Field trip to reuse facilities: City of Cottonwood, City of Prescott, and Town of Prescott Valley.
  Transportation and box lunch provided.